

Fitness Campaign

An organized effort that challenges individuals or teams to meet certain criteria that usually is short-lived and well-defined. Programs can encourage any variety of activity, but typically they involve walking or running for certain distances or lengths of time.